TOTOWA, N.J. – Deeza Chassis Parts, a subsidiary of European chassis parts maker Disa Automotive, will add more than 560 new enhanced-design parts to its product offering for North America.

The company said it has initiated an aggressive production schedule in order to offer customers a comprehensive program covering applications from the 1980s to current model year, for the most popular import vehicle platforms in the U.S and Canada. Additionally, many parts are also offered in Deeza's newly patented serviceable design.
