TOTOWA , NJ -- Deeza Chassis Parts recently redesigned its website, <http://www.DeezaChassis.com>, to feature more detailed information about its products, services and the company.

The new website also now features an online catalog that operates under ACES format. The online catalog is updated automatically with each new product added to Deeza's product portfolio. Deeza adds several items into its catalog every week and on average 400 new chassis parts each year.

High resolution product pictures and downloadable marketing materials can also be found on the new website.
